CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS, AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in cash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a ORLEANS, at the Ticket Office, corner of King member, and giving a small premium note, the insured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of the

CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies gainst loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospeets of future usefulness. The Directory hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in aettlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the chosen by the insured and the Company. DIRECTORS:

OUR COUNTRYMEN. - Bayard Taylor characterizes the New England tourist as grave, espectable-looking, slightly petulant about his accommodations, thin face and lips, no beard, precise in language, and gold spectacles. Under this, solid information, fair capacity to enjoy himself, positive opinions, and general appreciation of nature. . Not the worst fellows to travel with. The New Yorker is more flexible, and less precise, dresses at the above Fair will be charged FULL FARE DOWS, well, but affects carelessness. He makes acquaintances and forgets them with equal case, and shifts his opinions, like his clothes if he finds better. The Philadelphian is almost as prim as the New Englander. He never talks fifteen minutes without mentioning Philadelphia, his voice is thin and sharp and he snubs all the short vowels; yet he is warm, hospitable, and accessible. The Southerner is a little exacting, perhaps-or bold. His accent always shows that he played with young darkies when he was a boy; he says whar and thar, and maus' or mas'r, for master. But of either class he is frank and companionable, and will fight and be reconciled ten times, while a New-Englander is cost, for all purposes of conducting water to or working up a life-long enmity. The Western man is described, if you know his latitude, and reproduces New England, New tance from their dwellings or barn yards, at a York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Kentuomoderate elevation, will find a great advantage ky, as the case may be. He is restless, eddicted to adjectives, and says, "that's so!"

The great love i hitherto expressed for you is false, and I find that my indifference towards you increases every day; the more I see of you the more youngpear in my eyes an object of contempt.—
I feel myselfevery way disposed and determined to hate you. Believe me, I never had an intentiou to offer you my hand. Our last conversation has left a tedious insipidity which has by no means given me the most exacted idea of your character; your temper would make me extremely unhappy; and if we are united, I shall experience nothing but the hatred of my parents and to everlasting dis-pleasure in living with you. I have indeed a heart to bestow, but I do not wish you to imagine it he at your service. I could not give it to any more inconsistent and capracious than yourself, and less capable to do honor to my choice and to my family; yes madam, I beg you will be persuaded that I speak sincerely; and you will do me the favor to avoid me. I shall excuse your taking the trouble to answer this; your letters are always full of obestow, but I do not wish you to imagine it is importinence, and you have not the shadow of wit or good sense. Adien! adien! believe me I am so averse to you that it is impossible for me ever to be your most affectionate friend and humble servant.
